Dustin Wilkes is originally from Jefferson, GA, arrived in Nashville in the fall of 2004 within just hours of being discharged from the Marine corp. During his time serving our country as a

US Marine he received the US Navy and Marine Corp Achievement Medal, the only marine in history to receive a medal for writing a song. Dustin wrote “One Toy at a Time” for the Toys for Tots foundation that ultimately rose over $350,000 for children nationally. Dustin has been a two-time regional finalist in the Colgate Country Showdown, country music’s largest and oldest talent contest in the world. Most recently, Dustin was a top ten finalist on USA Network’s Nashville Star, which drew 9 million viewers nationwide.
